CIA HISTORICAL REVIEW PROGRAM
RELEASE IN FULL 1995

10 January 1962

MEMORANDUM FOR: Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs

ATTENTION : Mr. Bromley Smith

SUBJECT : Dissemination within CIA of Limited
Dissemination Cables

The practice followed by CIA in disseminating Limited Dissemination cables is to disseminate only to the Chiefs of those elements having a "need to know." Delivery is accomplished personally by Cable Secretariat personnel or in sealed envelopes to the Chief of the unit concerned.

The dissemination and delivery within CIA of CIA cables is essentially the same as described above. CIA cables in the form received are not disseminated outside CIA. The intelligence content of such cables is given to USIB members in Clandestine Services Information Reports or in TDCS's, as appropriate.

The above information is furnished pursuant to our telephone conversation of 8 January 1962 and will, I hope, meet your needs. You may be assured that all of us here in CIA are most conscious of the need to control dissemination on a "need to know" basis. Please call me if you need any additional information or if I can help in any way.

On the memo to [] I had to revise the wording somewhat to make provision for the fact that we do not put our [] cables in sealed envelopes when we deliver or when they are picked up by personnel of the units concerned. This method of handling was coordinated with all parties concerned. As now stated, I think the memo is a fair statement of present practice.
